

The eZuce Higher Education Program

UC By EDU, For EDU

For a limited time only, we at eZuce are offering openUC software licenses for free to higher education institutions. Act now and replace your school's legacy PBX with a solution that scales to large deployments, integrates with Lync and Zimbra, and offers an open source alternative for all those who want to break free of vendor silos. Since its inception, HEP has operated on the understanding that educational institutions have an ambitious mission but need to be conscious of their budget. That is why eZuce partnered with them to create a software solution that was tailored to their needs. The openUC virtualized communications system will integrate with top EDU applications, leverage the power of open source, and lead to significant cost savings.

Find out how openUC can modernize your campus communications system at the lowest cost in the industry. This offer only runs until September 30 so act soon! For more information, click on Learn More
